Care of TRAVEL BUREAU, DEPARTMENT OF RAILWAYS, TOKYO.MR. MACDONALD REVIEWS
DISARMAMENT PROBLEMDeputation Urges That Disarmament Conference ContinueGERMANY STILL DEMANDING EQUALITYEXPENDITURE ON ARMAMENTS
SHOULD BE LIMITED

Berlin, Nov. 10.

Germany's security is endangered not less than others. Why don't the others trust us? When has the German nation broken its pledged word? We are ready to go into every international conference and participate in every negotiation and sign treaties, but only as equals, declared Herr Hitler in a broadcast address today.

The Nazi Chancellor reiterated Germany's desire to stretch out their hand to their former enemies, but "I won't have Germany treated as a second class nation."

"Either you will give us equality or you will never see us again," he concluded.—Reuter.

MACDONALD RECEIVES DEPUTATION

The Prime Minister and Foreign Secretary this morning received a deputation led by the Archbishop of Canterbury, and including persons representative of the churches, literature, science, industry, education and peace movements.

The deputation urged that the Disarmament Conference should continue and that the British Government should press for an agreement upon the draft convention to be presented to Germany as a joint proposal of the conference.

The deputation expressed deep belief that the draft convention should limit expenditure on all armaments, forbid rearmament, provide for all-round abolition within a limited period of every type of weapons forbidden to Germany by the Treaty of Versailles, and should establish an effective, regular and continuous system of international supervision extending to all nations alike to traffic in and the manufacture of armaments and to civil aviation.

The Archbishop expressed satisfaction that the Government was determined that the Conference must continue. Also he hoped that the eloquent and generous words the Prime Minister used at the Guildhall about Germany might have a good effect.

Sir Josiah Stamp said the deputation felt that convention depending for final sanction upon the pacific descriptions of armaments, or upon even general qualifications, might be practically ineffective by the march of time and invention, and he urged that the monetary or financial limitation of armaments should be explored. The representations were supported by Colonel John Brown, Chairman of the British Legion and other speakers.

PREMIER'S REPLY

The Prime Minister, replying expressed keen satisfaction at receiving the deputation. The only aim of disarmament, he said, was peace which was the goal the Government sought.

On the matter of method, friction had developed. For instance, on both the international police force and civil aviation control issues there was considerable room for a difference of opinion. He asked the deputation whether they had satisfied themselves that international civil aviation control was going to give the security that certain countries would demand before giving up their aeroplanes. If there was a difference of opinion on such matters it was not a difference of opinion regarding peace, but on the effectiveness of the particular proposal.

There was a whole group of questions of the same character. Again, while the British Government was perfectly willing to lead, it must be remembered that nothing effective could be done without international agreement. The question was not whether disarmament was desirable, but how the maximum of disarmament was to be secured, and there was the further question of how the maximum of disarmament was to be secured by the operation of mind and nature, the minimum of tomorrow.

LONDON NAVY TREATY

He recalled that in the London Navy Treaty, America, Japan and Britain reached an agreement but France and Italy could not see their way to join. They therefore, had to put in what is known as escalator clause which gave any one of the three signatories the power to inform the other two that they had to expand their programmes because some non-signatory had engaged in building which really threatened their security.

"If the British Government were moved simply by Service ideas, militaristic ideas, and ideas which depended upon the assumption that an increase in arms is an increase in security, the escalator clause would have been put into operation eighteen months ago."

It has not been put into operation and it will be the last thing we shall agree to do, but in the 1935 conference provided for by the London Treaty we shall certainly be up against very considerable difficulties. I only recite these things to show you the nature of our problem."

PROBATIONARY PERIOD

Proceeding, he referred to supervision and the so-called probationary period. He said the word "probationary" had never been used by the British Government and when used by others they have always said that they did not agree to it.

He did not understand why any body ever assumed that Britain did not mean to begin control or supervision from the very beginning or how the impression got abroad that Germany alone was to be supervised.

That never was the intention. There were very considerable difficulties in the way of supervision. At least two Powers for various reasons, did not favour the proposal at first. Not that they had anything to hide, or intended to act outside any agreement. Those two Powers were the United States and Britain.

"When eventually it was agreed that we should go in for supervision in order to give an added sense of security to some other Powers then that supervision was to begin from the start and it was to be general."

Our first proposal was that it should operate when a complaint was made. On second thoughts, we agreed to general supervision."

TYPICAL POINTS.

These were merely typical points and he had indicated the way in which they had been handled. The spirit that had been shown by what he had said, was being applied to all the other points brought up by the deputation. A good many of them were still in the process of negotiation.

The aim before them in those negotiations was to reach an agreement, to get not only disarmament, but peace the spirit which alone is going to supply the foundation for disarmament.

GENERAL APPLICATION.

Sir John Simon, referring to the supervision proposal, recalled his speech at Geneva in which he said it was understood on all hands that the supervision contemplated would be of general application.

One thing to be noted about the first stage of the scheme was that there should be, from the beginning of the convention, an agreement that no Government would manufacture or acquire any further weapons of any of the types to be eventually abolished.

That in itself necessitated the general application of supervision. The whole question of supervision was one of great difficulty but the British Government came to the conclusion that for the sake of providing a general system of effective inspection and thereby leading to the establishment of confidence, they ought not to put obstacles in the way.

Mr. Ramsay MacDonald, the British Premier.

It was in the light of that which he regarded as a very great contribution toward a practical agreement that supervision was understood on all hands to be of a general application.

FINANCIAL CONTROL

Regarding financial control, there were tremendous difficulties. In Britain, the Government could not spend money on arms without the whole thing appearing in the accounts.

But every country did not proceed on that basis and to have an international agreement for budgetary control it was essential to have a system which might be expected to produce the proper results in countries where vastly different systems obtained.

There was a further difficulty, not only of the changing value of money, but of a difference of standards, and there were others which must be borne in mind.

PUBLICITY

The view the British Government had taken was that they must enquire whether an agreement could be reached on a satisfactory system of budgetary publicity, to begin with, and then to enquire whether the measure by which the different nations would make known and open to public inspection what they are doing could be secured.

If this was done, they would, in the course of getting it done, probably find a way of removing many of these difficulties.

The position of the Joint Commission was that provision for a system of budgetary publicity over a period of years should be made in the disarmament convention and that this afforded the best opportunity of judging whether a system of budgetary limitation could not eventually be put into force.—British Wirelens.

NEW CHANCELLOR OF OXFORDLord Irwin Nominated
by Conservatives

(Special Air-Mail Service)

London, October 28.
At Christ Church, Oxford, on Saturday, the Conservative members of Convocation decided to nominate Lord Irwin for the Chancellorship of the University in succession to the late Viscount Grey.

The meeting was presided over by the Dean of Christ Church, and it is understood that the voting in favour of Lord Irwin's nomination was 32 against 24. Sir Charles Oman, M.P., stated last night that an alternative candidate had been put to the meeting, but he declined to disclose his name.

Many of those who voted had been present at a meeting on Thursday at which complaint was made that the decision of the old convocations to recommend Lord Irwin for adoption was prematurely announced.

PROTEST AGAINST CAUCUS

It was made clear that this protest was directed not against Lord Irwin, but against the action of the caucus. Conservatives generally felt that this action was equivalent to the imposition of a decision that should be left to the Conservative members of the electorate.

At Saturday's meeting it was shown that a great deal of resentment was felt over any interference with this right, and it does not necessarily follow that the vote which has now been taken will end the unfortunate position that has arisen.

It is argued that the dispute might have terminated more satisfactorily if the vote had been unanimous instead of revealing so large a minority.

Since a nomination can be made by only two persons, it is impossible to say definitely that an opponent of Lord Irwin will not even at this stage be forthcoming.

An important meeting is to take place on Thursday under the chairmanship of the Vice-Chancellor, and members of all parties will be present. In the meantime it is possible that the position may be reviewed at a further meeting of the New Conservative Committee to be held early in the week.

PECTEX

For Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat, Hoarseness

The Ideal Old-time Remedy in New Form.

Pectex is based on the knowledge and experience of the wise old people. No Alkaloidal or Poisonous Opiates of any description whatever are in Pectex. You cannot cure a cough by smothering it.

Pectex causes the inflammation to subside by renewing the blood circulation in the affected membrane. The choking, rattling phlegm liquefies and is made as harmless as the natural saliva of the mouth and throat.

Pectex can be taken as an Elixir and sipped drop by drop. Can be taken by the tea or table-spoonful diluted with water according to the age of the sufferer.

Pectex after a very few doses makes "throat tickling" (that means neither you or others can sleep comfortably) disappear completely. Pectex makes the voice return to its normal tone note. It is an ideal cough balm and a cough specific.

TRIBUTE TO LORD METHUEN

Simple Service At Guards Chapel Memorial

Field-Marshal the Duke of Connaught, senior colonel of the Brigade of Guards, unveiled in the Royal Military Chapel, Wellington Barracks, a memorial to Field-Marshal Lord Methuen, twenty-third colonel of the Scots Guards and Constable of the Tower of London. The Duke, who is colonel of the Grenadier Guards, had with him the colonels of the other Guards regiments—the Prince of Wales (Welsh Guards), the Duke of York (Scots Guards), Lord Caven (Irish Guards), and General Sir Alfred Codrington (Coldstream Guards).

A large company, representative of the many aspects of Army and official life with which Lord Methuen was associated during his long and distinguished career, attended the service in which the unveiling ceremony and dedication of the memorial were set. The high Commissioner for South Africa and the Agent-General for Malta were present. Mr. Duff Cooper represented the Secretary for War and the Army Council. Field-Marshal Lord Allenby was there, and General Sir Ian Hamilton represented the South African war veterans. Among many members of the family of the late Field-Marshal in the chapel were the present Lord and Lady Methuen and the Dowager Lady Methuen. The Prince of Wales arrived shortly before 3 o'clock, and was escorted to his place. A few minutes later the Rev. E. H. Thorold, Chaplain-General to the Forces, and the Rev. C. D. Symons, Chaplain to the Brigade of Guards, received the Duke of Connaught and the Duke of York at the west door, and in a short procession through the chapel they were joined by Lord Caven and General Sir Alfred Codrington.

BAND AND CHOIR

Before the service began two non-commissioned officers took up places in the chancel on either side of a crimson cloth, ornamented with the star of the Brigade of Guards, which partly draped the memorial, and Yeomen Warders also took positions below the Communion rail step which has been reconstructed for the purposes of the memorial. In one of the galleries the band of the Scots Guards, under Lieutenant H. E. Dowell, Director of Music, was stationed. The choir was in three sections. Choristers of the Guards in full uniform filled the choir stalls; the boys of the Guards Chapel were in a gallery facing the band; and choir boys from Corsun, Wiltshire, the home of Lord Methuen, were ranged to the left of the lectern.

The service, short and simple, was enriched by its music. At the beginning the band played MacKenzie's "Benedictus," and after the verses had been recited accompanied the hymn "O Strength and Stay upholding all creation." Dr. H. Costley-White, Headmaster of Westminster, read the lesson from Ecclesiastes, and this was followed by the hymn "For all the Saints who from their labours rest," two verses of which were beautifully sung without accompaniment by the choir of boys in the gallery. At the close of the hymn the Duke of Connaught left his seat and followed the Chaplain-General to the steps below the sanctuary. Facing the altar, the Duke, speaking clearly and firmly, said: "To the Glory of God, and in honoured memory of Field-Marshal the late Paul Sanford, Baron Methuen, I unveil this memorial." The covering cloth was then withdrawn from the Communion rail step, and the commemorative inscription revealed.

PIPER'S LAMENT

The Chaplain-General, in dedicating the memorial, used the words: "May all who look upon it realize the peace of sins forgiven; the joy of faithful service; and the power of the endless life to which may God vouchsafe to bring us all through Jesus Christ our Lord." Then came the half-shrill but moving music of the bagpipes, and Pipe-Major Robertson, a solitary, dignified figure, passed into the central aisle playing "Flowers of the Forest." The lament filled the chapel with its beauty, but the last notes were softened almost to a whisper, for the piper walked out of the building as he played.

After prayers the congregation joined in singing "Abide with me" and the first verse of the National Anthem. The Chaplain-General pronounced the Benediction, and before the company left the chapel the band played "Garb of Old Gaul," the slow march of the Scots Guards, a traditional Scottish air which has been associated with the regiment for more than a century.

It was recalled in "The Times" that five young Guardsmen in 1877 initiated a scheme by which the bare interior of the Guards Chapel was transformed by the Lombardo-Byzantine decorative treatment which is now familiar. Three of those five officers are now commemorated within the chancel. The first step leading to the choir is dedicated to the memory of General Sir George Higginson, who died at the age of 100; the first step before the altar commemorates General Sir Henry Mackinnon; and the reconstructed Communion rail step unveiled gives a special place to the memory of Lord Methuen.

LESSON-SERMON

First Church Of Christ,
Scientist—Hong Kong

"Mortals and immortals" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which was read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, November 12th.

The Golden Text was: "The earnest expectation of the creature waiteth for the manifestation of the sons of God." (Romans 8:19). Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "There was a man of the Pharisees, named Nic-o-de-mus, a ruler of the Jews: The same came to Jesus by night, and said unto him, Rabbi, we know that thou art a teacher come from God: for no man can do these miracles that thou doest, except God be with him. Jesus answered and said unto him, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born again, he cannot see the kingdom of God. That which is born of the flesh is flesh; and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit" (John 3:1-3:6).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Earth has little light or joy for mortals before Life is spiritually learned. Every agony of mortal error helps error to destroy error, and so aids in the apprehension of immortal Truth. This is the new birth, going on hourly, by which men may entertain angels, the true ideas of God, the spiritual sense of being" (p. 548).

SIAMESE PRINCE IN CHAINS

Captured in Dash For Frontier

Bangkok, November 1. Arrangements are underway for the collection of the bodies of the soldiers killed in the recent rebellion with the view to holding a big cremation at Korat.

The Lord Lieutenant, Prince Petchaburi has been arrested while he was on the point of crossing the frontier into Burma.

He was brought to Bangkok handcuffed and chained and accompanied by a posse of police. The Karens who were sheltering him on the frontier were likewise arrested and brought to Bangkok. A Siamese noble, the editor of the English newspaper, the Bangkok Daily Mail, after a fortnight's chase, was arrested on the island of Koh Pui, a former reformatory settlement near the Indo-China owned islands and conveyed to Bangkok in a torpedo boat, destroyer.

He was later handcuffed and accompanied by armed guards, conveyed to the police station nearest his office.

WAR ACE GUILTY OF MISAPPROPRIATION

Shanghai, Nov. 10. Bert Hall, an American "ace" during the war, subsequently aviation instructor in Canton, who was found guilty of misappropriating funds from General Ho Chi Kuo intended for the purchase of arms, was sentenced to-day to two and a half years' imprisonment. He will serve his sentence on McNeill Island.—Reuter.

SHANGHAI PHOTOGRAPHER'S SUCCESS

Exhibits Chosen For Chicago's Permanent Collection

Mr. Bruce Jenkins, of the American Asiatic Underwriters, Shanghai, has received notification that two of his prints included in the International Photographic Salon at the Century of Progress Exhibition in Chicago have been selected by the Chicago Museum of Science and Industry as among those which they desire for their permanent collection for use in portraying scientific and industrial progress. The pictures chosen are entitled "Perfect Control" and "Cheerful Labour." In the course of a letter to Mr. Jenkins, Mr. George H. High, chairman of the Century of Progress Photographic Exhibition, writes:—"The Chicago Camera Club feels that this request reflects credit and honour on itself and its exhibitors, and is happy to endorse the request. We know of no better place in the world to-day than the Museum of Science and Industry, where an unquestionably active public interest is being developed in things photographic. The present attendance is at the rate of about 100,000 visitors per month." Mr. Jenkins is also informed that the print "Perfect Control" won an honourable mention in the thirteenth annual competition of the American Photographic Publishing Co., Boston, and will be included in an exhibition visiting various United States camera clubs and art museums, while "Cheerful Labour" is being held for reproduction in the American Annual of Photography for 1934.

Manila, Nov. 9. As the result of a resolution in the Legislatures to-day, the women of the Philippine Islands will be entitled to exercising a vote after January 1, 1935.—Reuter.

"The Shadow"

Henry Kendall, who stars in "The Shadow" is one of the most versatile of all the film stars, and is equally at home in comedy or drama. He is probably most appreciated in "silly ass" roles, as he is an adept in this type of humour, "silly ass" comedians are few and far between. But Henry is also delightful in the type of part he played in "Bill the Conqueror"—a young English farmer, devoted to the soil, and although he has not yet been seen as a villain on the screen, he has often played nasty parts on the stage, and been very successful, particularly in a play called "A Murder has been Arranged." In "The Shadow," Henry Kendall is seen in one of his popular comedy characterisations, with a difference. You'll get the surprise of your lives from Henry Kendall when you see "The Shadow" at the King's Theatre on Wednesday.

THE HAWK"At The Queen's
Theatre

The Eagle and "The Hawk" is a very interesting picture, and all those who witnessed it thought it so. The cast is headed by two clever male stars who are aided by the beautiful blonde Carole Lombard. The story is by the same author as "Wings," this war drama is even more exciting than the one just mentioned. It deals with the affairs of two men who are deadly enemies, and yet are forced to work together. When up in the air they apparently are on the best of terms, but when once down on the ground they are not at all friendly. The cast is a splendid one, the principals being Frederic March, Cary Grant, Jack Oakie and Carole Lombard. This film is teeming with excitement, and our advice is to see it if you are interested in thrillers.

"NIGHT AFTER NIGHT"Coming To The Queen's

"Night After Night," screen adaptation of the Louis Bromfield novel, "Single Night," is coming on Thursday to the Queen's.

George Raft, Constance Cummings, Wynne Gibson, Mae West and Alison Skipworth will be seen in the leading roles.

Action of the film is set in a luxurious New York speakeasy, an old brownstone mansion rescued from decay to serve as an oasis for Manhattan's wealthy thrifty. Raft, young player who scored sensational success in minor roles in "Scarface," "Dancers in the Dark," and "Madame Racketeer," has his first leading role as proprietor of the "joint."

Miss West, colourful figure of the Broadway stage, who makes her movie debut in the film, and Miss Gibson, are two of Raft's ex-sweethearts who find more difficulty in breaking the tie with him than he does.

Miss Cummings is seen in the role of a Park Avenue debutante who finds that the speakeasy has been established in the house in which she was born; a couple of decades back, in its better days. A nostalgic yearning draws her back to it time after time.

Her frequent visits bring her in contact with Raft, who is fascinated by her. And a queer romance develops between the two a romance which is precipitated into startling channels by a series of unusual events.

MAURICE COMPLETES FILM, GOES ABROAD

Before boarding the Santa Fe Chief en route to New York and his native France, Maurice Chevalier told his Hollywood friends that he is soon to be starred in a picture based upon his own colourful life. The story will carry Chevalier from poverty, through the war, to stardom in Hollywood.

Success

Climaxing her career as a film star, Janet Gaynor gives her best performance in "Paddy, The Next Best Thing" with Warner Baxter now at the King's Theatre.

With all the charm that has characterized her performances, "Seventh Heaven," Miss Gaynor grows increasingly charming with every new film. In "Paddy," her whimsical brand of humour stands out against the romantic qualities of Mr. Baxter who, is the rich man so enamored with the hoyden in Janet Gaynor that he wins her in spite of it.

"Paddy" is laid against the background of an Irish coastal town where a once influential family is reduced to poor circumstances. Fearlessly she goes into the market place to dispose of her father's chattels so that the family may exist.

Miss Gaynor had a new type of role in "Paddy." Her chief pastime and fault, if it may be called that, is in telling little white lies for the sake of the fun of it. And her film, in the end, gets her into such difficulties that their solution involves every member of the cast.

Margaret Lindsay, who will be remembered as the girl in the Titanic sequences of "Cavalcade," has the secondary lead in the production and acquits herself very well. Walter Connolly, famous stage actor, performs with his usual aptitude in the role of Janet's ailing father. And the other members of the cast, including a brood of Irish pigs, do nobly.

Harry Lachman directed this production and has shown the skill that made him famous abroad as director of many foreign picture successes. With such supervision, an excellent cast and a magnificent background, "Paddy" is perfect entertainment.

MRS. J. W. LLOYD ROBBED

$2,800 Worth of Jewellery
Stolen

The residence of Mr. J. D. Lloyd, Superintendent of the Imports and Exports Department, 408 The Peak, was the scene of a robbery between 7 p.m. on Tuesday and 3 p.m. on Friday, when jewellery to the total value of $2,800 was stolen.

According to a police report, Mrs. Lloyd, on returning home on Tuesday evening, placed the jewellery in a drawer in the dressing table. Looking for it on Friday afternoon she found that it had disappeared. Among the stolen articles were a lady's platinum finger ring of a thin round pattern set with 3 diamonds in a row with claw setting, valued at $800; a lady's gold finger ring set with one single diamond with claw setting, valued at $2,000 and a gold necklace about 80 inches in length containing pink jade beads, valued at $200.

FAMOUS FILM BROTHERS

In Screen Battles

London, Oct. 18.
The most famous brothers on the screen staged one of the most spirited fight scenes ever filmed. John and Lionel Barrymore, as Prince Chegodieff and Rasputin, threw each other off landings, rolled over and over on the floor of a cellar, and even went through a glass window, as thrills for "Rasputin—the Mad Monk," showing at the Metropole, Victoria. But with years of experience in "picture fighting," neither received a scratch.

The sequence is that leading up to the death of Rasputin in the drama of the fall of the Romanoffs, co-starring John, Ethel and Lionel Barrymore, for the first time.

Readers who insert a private prepaid advertisement, minimum four lines, in our classified columns this week will, on request, receive a ticket admitting two persons to the Metropole. Applicants must accept the performance offered.

Applications by post must have a stamped addressed envelope. Otherwise they will be ignored. No request will be entertained after the advertisement has appeared.

COLOUR FILMS

Claims For British Invention

London, Oct. 28.
I have just seen a demonstration of a new British system of colour cinematography which gives promising results.

It is the invention of Mr. D. Daponte, who has given much study to stereoscopy, and Mr. S. J. Cox, an expert in slowmotion photography.

It is difficult to apply colour photography to fast-moving objects. Colours in most processes tend to overlap, or "fringe," and no new process will be effective which involves heavy additional expense.

Messrs. Daponte and Cox claim that all these drawbacks have been overcome. The two reels I saw were all made at Joinville, Paris, by a French film concern said to be interested in the possibilities of the invention. They show Spanish dancers in gorgeous colours, a ballet from a Paris night resort, views of the Seine and scenes indoors.

The colours certainly do not "fringe," and except for a grass bluer than any in Kentucky, they are sufficiently convincing. There is, too, a stereoscopic effect.

The definition was not as good as in the best black-and-white screen work.

Mr. Cox tells me that there is a possibility that "Chu Chin Chow," to be produced shortly by the Gaumont-British film Corporation, will be made in colour by this process. He states that normal film is used, and that the only new apparatus required is a "cine-colour" lens for camera and projector.

When I asked whether film producers would be charged a royalty, he said he was not sure, but that in any case the cost of a picture would be only "fractionally" increased.

FILM STATEMENT ON DISARMAMENT

London, Oct. 28.

Sir John Simon, the Foreign Secretary, who spent the weekend in the country, came specially to London on Saturday night to give a "film interview" on the disarmament question to Gaumont-British at their studios at Shepherd's Bush. The film is for immediate release.

In it Sir John says that Germany's withdrawal from Geneva must not be allowed to stop work for disarmament. Britain has a particular interest in that work. He points out that this country had set an example, and had given the lead, for since the war we had cut down our army, navy and air force to what he had called the edge of risk.

Sir John adds: "There is no ground whatever for reproaching this country with having failed to do its utmost to promote world disarmament."

The fourth day of the week will be known as "Merchants' Day" when various commercial organisations and trade guilds will hold a meeting at the Chinese Chamber to propagate the importance of bandit suppression. In a circular to trade guilds, the Chamber points out that the present business depression is largely due to the bandit activities in the interior, hence merchants should give their whole-hearted support to the Government in order to make the bandit suppression campaign a complete success.

In Evening Wear a great deal of the comfort depends upon careful attention to details—Summit Shirts that slip on like a coat, with fronts that sit perfectly and sleeves that are always just the right length. Summit Collars that fit the neckbands of shirts exactly and comfortably. Ties correct in length for each size of collar. Waistcoats that are just the right cut for the shirts, and just the right length.

Evening Wear is a very personal matter. Mackintosh's spare no effort to give real personal service in this department. The whole purpose of the wide choice offered is to make individual choice easy, to enable every man to feel that his own needs and taste are studied sympathetically and provided for efficiently.

ECHOES OF 1859

46—Public Hanging Of A Pirate

(June 2, 1859)

The Chinese who was hanged yesterday morning made a full confession of his guilt as a participant in the piratical attack upon the "Heather Bell." He addressed a few lines to his father the day before his execution, stating that by the time the letter reached its destination, he would be no more, and desiring to be remembered to his brother and sisters who were to be told that his crimes merited the death he was about to suffer.

This will have an excellent effect and we hope that a few more of the perpetrators of those atrocities, which so often cast a gloom on society during the war, may be apprehended and similarly dealt with. One of the Chinese concerned in the attack upon the "Thistle" was apprehended some time since at Whampoa. The Earl of Elgin was at Canton at the time, and decided that as the atrocity was committed at the instance of the Chinese Government, the ruffian was merely a paid servant in the matter and could not be held responsible. We suppose the same doctrine will apply to the attack on the "Queen" and to a few more similar tragedies.

The execution took place at 6 a.m. The criminal met his fate with great fortitude. He was a tall good-looking man, and had been connected with the pirate Choo-ah-ki. He made a speech on the scaffold to the effect that Hong Kong was a very bad place, and all the Chinese who had money should leave it. The execution was well managed, the murderer's suffering being very short.

SOME OTHER ITEMS OF NEWS

About five o'clock yesterday afternoon, one of Mr. Cooper Turner's servants, a lad about sixteen years of age, was assailed by two Chinese in the ground close to Mr. Turner's stables, who demanded money and attempted to rob him of his clothes. The boy, thinking they wished to kidnap him, made a desperate struggle and succeeded in reaching the outhouse where he gave alarm to the house. Chase was immediately given and the miscreants secured, though not without resistance, knives being used on both sides. Mr. Cooper Turner's presence with a revolver settled the affair. The desperadoes are now lodged in the Police office and will be examined this morning.

We understand that our contemporary of the "Boho de Povo" has been summoned to appear before the Magistrate for having stated that the eccentric old man, Mr. Peters, was crazy.

We hear that the Russian war steamers will leave for Nagasaki to-day. We think they might as well have announced it.

The "Queen of England" from Liverpool with coals is reported to be on the South Bank at the entrance to the Yang-tze-Kiang. Last accounts say she was throwing coals overboard to lighten.

Mr. M. K. Lo in thanking Mr. Luke on behalf of his wife, congratulated the winners on their success and commiserated with the losers in their failure. He congratulated the sportsmen on the very fine exhibition they put up.

FATAL FALL FROM TRAM

Chinese Soldier Dies In Hospital

A Chinese soldier, named Li Wai, Pong aged 23 years, died in the Government Civil Hospital early on Saturday morning following serious head injuries caused by falling from a moving tramcar near Happy Valley two days ago.

It is said that deceased who recently arrived from Canton to visit his relatives, was standing at the third class entrance of an eastward-bound tram, and fell while alighting near Bowington Bridge, Happy Valley.

Deceased was removed to the mortuary for identification.

FATHER'S CHARGES AGAINST HIS SON

Asks For A Prison Sentence

The father of a Chinese Youth, Kwan Pui, requested Mr. E. W. Hamilton at the Central Magistracy on Saturday morning to send his son to prison in order to reform the lad.

The boy, aged about 20 years, was charged with stealing his father's cotton had quilt and a suit of clothes valued at $30.

The father then stated that his son was addicted to opium and was always asking for money and when refused would threaten to beat his father.

The magistrate thought that the case should be adjourned for further investigation, and was remanded till this morning.

THE TWO MINUTES SILENCE

Armistice Day Observance In Hong Kong

STIRRING CEREMONY AT THE CENOTAPH

As in former years, Armistice Day observation in the Colony took the form of special Church Services followed by the ceremony at the Cenotaph during which the immense crowd which had gathered to witness it, joined in the two minutes silence.

The sale of poppies in the streets of Hong Kong started at an early hour and a large sum was collected for Earl Haig's funds by the many pretty helpers who were to be seen everywhere.

A charity football match during the afternoon between the Services and the Rest of the Colony, at which His Excellency the Governor was present, was one of the means employed for collecting funds for the cause, while an auction at the K.C.C. on Saturday night together with other efforts in smaller clubs helped to swell general total.

The area immediately around the Cenotaph was lined with troops and Royal Navy Units by 10.30 in the morning. As the hour approached eleven, the crowd of spectators grew steadily larger and the white and khaki uniforms stood out in strong contrast to the background presented by the vast gathering of sightseers.

A large number of Clergy and St. John's Cathedral Choir were on the west side of the Cenotaph facing the Hongkong Club while the buglers were stationed on the east side in front of the Club. The massed band were in Connaught Road, while members of the Executive and Legislative Councils and the Consular Body, in formal morning coats and top hats, assembled on the north side.

It was noticed that Major General O. C. Borrett, C.B., C.M.G., C.B.E., D.S.O. was among the earliest arrivals. Later Commodore Captain Frank Elliott, O.B.E., R.N., arrived, and His Excellency the Governor was the last to arrive, accompanied by Captain Walter.

His Excellency on his arrival walked up to the Cenotaph, saluted, and took up his position. The other officers and officials then took up their stand and waited for the first notes of the "Last Post." The scene, in brilliant sunshine was one which will remain long in the memory of all who saw it.

As the notes of the "Last Post" died away a gun was fired to mark the beginning of the two minutes silence. It is not insignificant that the Chinese population, nor was the silence on Saturday broken by the hearseful sounding of sirens in the Harbour, or by the grinding of brakes as motor cars are pulled up on approaching the Square. Instead this year, silence prevailed everywhere, a silence during which the solemnity of the occasion was brought home to everyone present.

IMPRESSIVE SERVICE AT ST. JOHN'S CATHEDRAL

Dean Swann's Appeal For A New Spirit Of "Remembrance Day"

Before the Cenotaph ceremony, an impressive service was held in St. John's Cathedral, H. E. the Governor being among those present.

Preaching from the text, "This is the way, walk ye in it," Isaiah XXXI 21, Dean Swann said:— "I believe that quite definitely the time has come for discarding completely the name 'Armistice Day.' It has associations which feel sure must be replaced by others. Beginning as a day of gratitude for the cessation of hostilities in the great war it was natural that its name should emphasise this aspect. Later it was seen that public opinion wanted to use it as a day of remembrance of those who had fallen in the war. So it is now very generally called 'Remembrance Day.'"

But as the years have passed it has seemed increasingly clear to many that it is to live on there must be another change of attitude towards it. Such a change is forced upon us not only by the mere passage of time but far more by the present situation in international relationships. It is quite possible that we may have to change the name again.

REMEMBRANCE DAY. "Remembrance Day" is much better for our present purpose than "Armistice Day," but it is a question whether the unqualified word "remembrance" is not too capable of conflicting interpretation to make it desirable for the future. One can "remember" in so many different ways. One may "remember" with sorrow or with thankfulness and pride, but one may also remember with bitterness and unrelenting suspicion and hatred.

The war generation will always continue to remember with sorrow and pride their brothers and fathers, friends and relatives, who gave their lives—an appalling multitude; but there is now a generation of younger folk for whom this obviously is impossible. The Great War means less to them than the Boer war to the middle aged. How can we expect the young men and women in their twenties, on whom incidentally the future of the world depends, to enter with any degree of reality into the observance of a day for "remembering" what they do not remember?

Again, must those others for whom the war was a vivid and painful reality continue to look back to it with nothing more than a negative emotion of sorrow, or even with a passive pride and thankfulness? And now that the years have shown us the supreme folly of the whole business are not pride and thankfulness concerning the sacrifice of ten million lives quite inadequate sentiments, to say the least of it?

SINISTER REMEMBRANCES. Again, at the Cenotaph ceremony we shall use a prayer which asks God to deliver us from the temper which refuses to forgive, and has no wish to forget.

THE GLOUCESTER LOUNGE

A Touch of London in Hong Kong

A touch of London in the heart of Hongkong, was the impression given on Saturday with the opening of the new Gloucester Lounge. Smartness, modernity and efficiency, the three essentials, demanded the public in any business, and particularly in restaurants, are outstanding characteristics.

Although at this season of the year we are not greatly bothered by the heat the construction of the lounge is such that it will give the maximum ventilation and coolness on the hottest day. Large plate glass windows both on Pedder Street and on the side facing the rotunda of the Gloucester give a marvellous opportunity to sit and watch all that is happening. Chromium plate decorations give the lounge a brightness which is toned to a nicety by the quality of the wood panelling on the walls.

Moderate prices are also a feature that should prove alluring to those who make a morning cup of coffee a regular habit, and if the opening day's attendance can be taken as a criterion of the future the success of the lounge is assured.

mony we shall use a prayer which asks God to deliver us from the temper which refuses to forgive, and has no wish to forget. A great deal of the present most disquieting condition of Europe is due to the refusal to forget past injuries, the determination in fact to "remember."

Here is the sinister kind of "remembrance" which keeps alive bitterness and hatred, which perpetually fans suspicion and distrust and by looking for the worst effectively brings it to the surface, there to snarl and strain at any leashes which still may hold it back from another ghastly conflict more terrible than the last.

No, "remembrance" itself is not good enough. The only justification for it to my mind is that if we rightly remember we will resolve something wholly better for the future: and the emphasis must be not on remembering but on resolving. Thus I feel sure that if this day is to live we must form a new public opinion about it. I wish we could change its name again. In the past we have called it "Service of Commemoration" this year I have called it one of "Commemoration and Hope." We want a name for November 11th, which will suggest Hope of the right kind, a hope which is dynamic, a hope which is as far as possible from what is ordinarily understood by the term "a pious hope." In the world as it is to-day there is no place for weak sentiments. We are confronted by bitter facts and tightly tangled muddles, and nothing short of the strongest realities will steer the world through them.

The Hope of Watts' picture, with its handaged eyes and weak fingers plucking the last string is worse than useless. We need a hope, which, being very far from form, has in it a driving force in the pursuit of peace of the same temper as that which has in the past been shown in the leadership of many a so-called "forlorn hope" in war.

Can we not devise a name for this day which may influence public opinion in the direction of a passionately active will for peace? WORLD OPINION. An instructed and energized world public opinion is the urgent need of to-day. We pool-pool the efforts of the League of Nations. We should be much better employed building up the public opinion upon which the League of Nations entirely depends. Time after time, leaders, who realise the League's weaknesses and yet who recognise it as the summit of history in international affairs, have said "The League is what we make it." With the present paucity of strength of public opinion behind it the League cannot be otherwise than weak. Like other idealists it is merely watched by the majority, who are waiting to say "I told you so. Human nature is human nature. You can't do that sort of thing!" So long as the peoples of the world do no more than weakly bemoan the threat of war the cloud of danger will remain, kept in existence by those to whose selfish interest it is to do so.

We must make people see the utter madness, to say nothing of the evil, of settling differences by war. War never really settles anything, except who is physically the strongest. The rights and wrongs of any matter cannot be settled by resort to arms, and as we have had bitter opportunity to observe during the past fifteen years, not only is the winner as badly off as the loser, but such a violent spirit of hatred is engendered that the situation after a war is worse than before it.

FEAR IS NO SAFEGUARD. Some books recently published make the bad mistake of trying to frighten public opinion into a determination to preserve peace, by lurid descriptions of the horrors of any future great war. Peace will not be made secure by encouraging cowardice. The greatest courage will be demanded in the attack which we hope for upon all the net-work of vested interests in finance and commerce which are the root cause of modern war.

Nevertheless it is high time we were realist about war itself. We are still so largely obsessed by the supposed glamour of it and by the fine human qualities which are undoubtedly engendered by it, that we fail to see it in the same light as some great disease. We do not nowadays say that there will always be typhus in the world, but far too many otherwise sane people do continue to say that there will always be war.

War surely belongs to primitive humanity, and perhaps so long as there remain considerable areas of the world in which civilisation in its highest sense is only skin-deep, and in which resort to violence is still common, it may be necessary to check force by force. But even this is debatable. The world still refuses to recognise the astounding power of love. In any case it is certain that those who think to defend their "rights" by force must be prepared to reconsider the question whether those supposed rights are indeed morally justifiable.

In the case of nations who for centuries have given even nominal allegiance to the law of love, as taught by our Lord Jesus Christ, the attempt to settle differences between them by resort to war cannot, I think, now be justified in any way whatever.

SATURDAY'S TRAINING GALLOPS

Long List Of Ponies Put Through The Pace

(BY "MORNING DEW")

A long list of ponies were put through their paces on Saturday in preparation for the racing this week-end. There were many pretty efforts and the gallop of Woodland Stag over a mile in 2.01 stands out as the best performance of the morning. Woodland Stag is in the five furlongs sprint for the best class of Australian ponies and is sure to start a hot favourite for the race. His training form encourages his supporters.

Night Star is also entered for this race, but he has been put to comparatively slow work. An interesting gallop is that of Change, an Australian pony which has not appeared in Hong Kong this year. Change was the winner of the 1932 Sydney Maidens and Saturday's sprint event will suit him very well. He looks quite fit.

Brechin covered a very subdued mile, but he is in tip-top condition and will need a lot of watching. Pride of Tsingtao is moving very well just now and it will not surprise me to see him do well on Saturday. His time is very satisfactory. The fastest last quarter of the day was by Golden Dawn who finished a three-quarter mile gallop by covering the last quarter in 27.3.

Of the "B" Class Australians, Lucy Glitters went very well indeed to finish six furlongs in 1.30.3.

An interesting gallop is that of Don, who finished the last half mile of his gallop over a mile in 1.01.1.

In the case of nations who for centuries have given even nominal allegiance to the law of love, as taught by our Lord Jesus Christ, the attempt to settle differences between them by resort to war cannot, I think, now be justified in any way whatever.

This may seem so commonplace a statement as to be superfluous. But unfortunately we cannot take such ideas for granted. Public opinion is still amazingly uninfored in this respect. Civilized nations have long since accepted the principle of the application of law in the limiting of individual freedom. We do not allow every man to be his own judge. But in the case of nations we do. When any nation rises up armaments it actually adopts the position of the bully who says "If you get in my way I shall knock you down," and moreover, like the bully, it demands the right itself to determine when and to what extent its neighbours are in its way. This principle of law, accepted in individual life, has yet to be adopted by world public opinion as essential to international relations.

"THIS IS THE WAY!" But "who is sufficient for these things?" The more or less unrestricted pursuit of selfish interests in industry, commerce, finance and politics have got the world into such trouble that the ordinary man almost despair. Human relationships have become so complex that no one man—or even group of men—of the highest available intelligence seems able to see daylight through the darkness. We try to patch up the situation, applying tentative remedies to this or that part of it. We grasp at a slight improvement here or there and bolster up our hopes. But all the time there is no commonly accepted line of advance, no guiding principle. And come people long for some superman to come among us and occupy the position of plenipotentiary world dictator, whose mind will cut clear through the tangle and put us all right and bring in the millennium. But this world is not run on this principle. Man has got to work out his own salvation.

But, and this is the point to which I have wanted to lead you, man is not left alone. There is a God, all wise, all seeing, whose (Continued on Page 8.)

UNEMPLOYMENT AND HEALTH

The most interesting and significant of all the publications issued by the British Government as a yearly summary of work done and results achieved by various state departments is probably the Report on the nation's health from the hand of the Chief Medical Officer of Health, Sir George Newman. The importance of the subject and the simple lucidity with which the facts and figures are marshalled make the volume welcome reading for outside medical and official circles, for it offers irrefutable evidence of a nation's primary asset—its general health. Particularly interesting in the Report for 1932, just published under the title "On the State of the Public Health," is a careful examination of the effects of unemployment in Great Britain on physical health. It is a well known fact that general unemployment has been more prolonged and severe in England than in any of the other great industrial countries, having lasted for many years with practically no relief due to such intermittent boom periods as other countries have been fortunate in experiencing. It could therefore have caused no surprise to find some deterioration in health in industrial areas hard hit by the depression.

But in point of fact the opposite has been the case. Comparisons were instituted between two groups of areas, each group with a total population of over a million, the one representing districts in which there is much unemployment and the other with little. The surprising result of the examination is that, whereas the death rate in all districts is lower than it was ten years ago, the general health in bad districts has improved at a far greater rate than in the good districts. The explanation of this apparent anomaly is to be found first and foremost in the improved hygienic conditions effected by the Great Britain's extensive social services, combined with the fact that enforced idleness, evil though it be in one sense, does bring with it rest, the chance of an outdoor life, and freedom from impairment to health incidental to the work on which a person is engaged.

When Sir George Newman reports that "the exceptionally good health of the English people continues to be maintained," it is no mere phrase to lull and comfort a nation admittedly proud of a high physical standard. The statistics show that diseases of practically every denomination have lost ground. The general death rate, which has been decreasing steadily since 1871, was in 1932 only 12 per 1,000 inhabitants. Among infants under one year of age there were last year 39,933 deaths as compared with 142,912 in 1900. This great improvement is chiefly due to the excellent work of the 2,300 maternity and child welfare centres, distributed all over the country, which teach mothers and expectant mothers how to take care of themselves and their babies.

The Report further states that the "great constitutional diseases, which bear in particular a social and domestic significance, have declined proportionately." To take only a few examples: Tuberculosis, which ten years ago caused 92 out of every 1,000 deaths, has now declined to 68 per 1,000. Deaths from diseases of the nervous system fell from 107 per 1,000, deaths in 1923 to 84 in 1932. Deaths from pneumonia and bronchitis in 1923 number 149 per 1,000, and had by 1932 declined to 113 per 1,000.

Enormous benefit is derived from the care taken of children in elementary schools. Where necessary they are provided with free meals and milk, while universal medical and dental inspection and treatment at the 1,300 free clinics ensure that disease and defects are taken in hand immediately they appear. Thus a solid foundation is laid for the sound development of the child, so that when at the age of fourteen years it leaves school, it is built up to resist the strain which its adult life and occupation may put upon it. That this is the root of the excellent state

SUN YAT SEN'S BIRTHDAY
The Man Who "Transferred Power To The People"

Yesterday was Sun Yat Sen's birthday and for those who believe in the Chinese people and who also believe that China will emerge a unified and united nation in due time, the anniversary of the birth of Sun Yat Sen is an occasion for rejoicing.

Sun Yat Sen, or Sun Wen, also called Sun Chung-shen, was born on November 12, 1866 of a family of farmers in a village, named Tsuiheng, in the district of Heung-shan, midway between Canton and Macao. Some say that Dr. Sun was a native of Honolulu, but apparently that was a mere attempt to throw the Manchu police "off the trail of him, as his revolutionary ideas had brought upon him the merciless persecution of the Imperial Police."

There can be no doubt that the father of the Chinese Republic very early in his youth was imbued with the fact that all was not well with his country. It was said that he never accepted the argument of tradition. "Things were always thus, hence everything is well as it is," would not do for him. On one occasion, for instance, he said to his mother: "Please do not blind the feet of my little sister, she suffers so much."

Afterwards from emigrants who had come back to their home country after having amassed a fortune, he absorbed much of the progressive idea of modernity. Then one day his elder brother, Sun Te-cheng, returned from Honolulu, prosperous and modernised. This gave him the incentive to visit new countries. In 1877, Dr. Sun who was then eleven years old went to the Hawaiian Islands. For three years he attended the Protestant Episcopal School and later went to finish his studies at St. Louis College in Hawaii. Soon his brother grew uneasy about the foreign education Dr. Sun was absorbing and forced him to return to his village. Dr. Sun spent 1883-4 in his native village.

The Franco-Chinese War (1884-1885) revealed to him the weakness of China and of the Manchu Government. From that time onwards, Dr. Sun travelled a good deal between Canton, Hongkong, Honolulu and the United States working out his revolutionary ideals and spreading his propaganda among his compatriots at the risk of his life on more than one occasion.

The humiliation and the heavy war indemnity inflicted by the Allies in 1900 stirred Dr. Sun and his followers to the quick. And they succeeded in winning some support, particularly among the Chinese students in Japan. Already the revolutionary societies had been amalgamated with the "Association for the Resurrection of China." After a visit to the exhibition of Hawaii in the spring of 1905, Dr. Sun started on another trip round the world. This tour gave him a good opportunity to gather recruits from among the Chinese students in the Universities in Europe and America. A first reunion was held in Brussels, a second in Berlin, and a third in Paris. Still later in Tokyo were gathered many of the revolutionary representatives. Thus was started the Revolutionary Union, in the autumn of 1905.

In Tokyo the future Chinese Republic was first mentioned. In the hands of Sun Yat Sen, the League was to become the instrument of revolution that brought about the final downfall of the Manchus in October 1911.

In justice to the memory of Dr. Sun it must be recorded here that he always fought for the happiness of the Chinese people. No future historian can say that Dr. Sun had ever been mercenary or worked for his own selfish aggrandisement, as Feng Yu Hsiang admitted in these words: "The cause of our political unrest during the past seventeen years has been the struggle among individuals. Our so-called leaders have been fighting against one another for their selfish ends."

We do not deceive ourselves as of health in England during times of prolonged depression and unemployment is beyond questioning, and Sir George Newman quotes with justifiable satisfaction a medical officer from the League of Nations, who remarked after a recent survey of health conditions in Great Britain, "I have made inspections in many countries, and one difference I find is this: In England you have a medical machinery already available for meeting exceptional circumstances, and you are doing it."

to Dr. Sun's shortcomings but what leaders of any country are devoid of shortcomings? The revolution—as a transfer of power and authority to the people; as a liberation of the common people from corrupt, despotic and ignorant rulers, has still for the most part to be accomplished. However imperfectly, Dr. Sun has set down his ideals for his successors to work out in the Sam Manchui (triple Demism). To Dr. Sun's mind, the state is the people, not the War Lords.

It is impossible to go into details here. The most impressive single feature about China in the midst of turmoil and confusion of to-day is the rapid growth of an enlightened and progressive public opinion. The power of moral and intellectual force in China is by no means on the wane. It is gathering momentum among the educated class, even among the workers, that is the skilled labourers.

From this it is friends and sympathisers of China can take heart again and have faith in the belief that the Chinese people will eventually work out their salvation. Look at the Chinese situation how we will, there is an unmistakable regenerative national impulse, which is steadily asserting itself in education, in literature, in social organisation, in commerce and in the press—in short, in all the basic elements of Chinese life.

Tribute to Late Dr.
Sun Yat SenCOMMEMORATION
SERVICE AT CANTON

(From Our Special Correspondent)

Canton, Nov. 11.
Tribute in honour of the late Dr. Sun Yat Sen on his birthday anniversary was paid to-day in a commemorative service at the Chung-shan Memorial Hall. The service was attended by government officials, Kuomintang leaders, representatives of public bodies and schools.

To-day was declared a holiday for public celebration and amusement, as the cinema theatres, roof gardens and amusement resorts charged only one half fare for admission. Even the newspapers stopped work to-day, and there will be no issue to-morrow.

Kuomintang owned newspapers issued special editions depicting and illustrating the life and work of Dr. Sun Yat Sen. The Kwangtung Provincial Kuomintang issued a long statement and slogans on this occasion, which urged the people to uphold the Party and nation, suppress Communists and strive to regain lost territories.

ARMISTICE DAY
IN LONDONPrince Represents the King at Cenotaph

London, Nov. 11.
The signing of the Armistice on November 11, 1918, was celebrated with customary solemnity throughout the world and the British Empire, to-day.

The "Two-Minutes' Silence," which is a universal feature of the ceremony, was most complete in London, where the grey November day intensified the quietness when all road and pedestrian traffic came to a standstill.

The Cenotaph was the rallying point for a vast reverent concourse. The ceremony was most impressive. His Majesty the King, who had previously announced that he would be present, did not attend.

Court circles to-day emphasised that the King's health is excellent, but it was considered inadvisable for him to expose himself to cold winds.

H.R.H. the Prince of Wales, who deputised for His Majesty, placed a wreath of Hail poppies on the Cenotaph.

During the day, 40,000,000 poppies were on sale in Britain and it is hoped that this year, all previous records will be broken and at least $600,000 realised.

The Field of Remembrance at Westminster, which was floodlit last night, was again planted with crosses of poppies.—Reuter.

PRINCE OF WALES GIVEN TREMENDOUS WELCOME.

The Prince of Wales, Patron of the British Legion, participated in the Legion Armistice Festival at the Albert Hall where he was given a tremendous welcome by thousands of ex-service men and their wives. The detachments represented most parts of the British Empire.

The Prince of Wales, in his speech, quoted a few lines from the Laurence Binyon poem "To The Fallen": "They shall not grow old as we that are left grow old." 1,104,886 scarlet poppies, were dropped from the roof in memory of the Empire's dead while the hymn "O Valiant Hearts" was being sung.—Reuter.

SERVICES HELD THROUGHOUT THE EMPIRE

London, Nov. 11.
The fifteenth anniversary of the Armistice was commemorated to-day throughout the country. The Memory of those who died in the Great War was honoured as usual by the observance of two minutes' silence at the Armistice hour, and by the wearing of Flanders' Poppies made by ex-servicemen. The chief ceremony was at the Cenotaph in Whitehall, but in Cathedrals and Churches, at War memorials of cities and villages and wherever there is a British Colony throughout the world similar tribute was paid.

Mr. Thomas George Stokes has been appointed to be Deputy Registrar of Births and Deaths with effect from 3rd November.

Although H.M. the King is in excellent health it was considered inadvisable that His Majesty should be exposed to damp foggy weather and he was represented by Prince of Wales, with whom were the Duke of Gloucester, Prince George and H.R.H. Prince Arthur of Connaught also attended.

The Duke of York represented H.M. the King in the Armistice Service in Edinburgh.

The King's wreath was laid at the base of the Whitehall Cenotaph by the Prince of Wales, who also laid a wreath on his own behalf, and wreaths were placed in position by other members of the Royal family and by representatives of His Majesty's Governments in the United Kingdom, Dominions, India Colonies and Protectorates, and on behalf of the defence services, merchant navy and fishing fleets.

Representative detachments of the Army, Navy, Air-force, ex-servicemen and women led by bands of the Brigade of Guards marched to the Cenotaph round which they formed a hollow square.

The silence, which as usual was impressively observed by the immense crowd densely massed in Whitehall and neighbouring streets, began on the first stroke of eleven o'clock by Big Ben and was followed by the sounding of the last post by trumpeters.

A brief service conducted by the Bishop of London was then held, the singing being led by the choir of the Chapel Royal supplemented by Westminster Abbey choir.

The service was ended by the sounding of the Reveille and the singing of the National Anthem. During the ceremony H.M. the Queen occupied a window in the Home Office which overlooks the Cenotaph.

Later began the pilgrimage of many thousands of people to the Cenotaph where wreaths were laid. It was stated this morning that Princess Royal's condition was quite satisfactory.—British Wire-less.

plan for human life and development. It followed, would set the world straight. Is it not time we listened to His voice? We have turned our backs upon Him and gone everyone his own way and the result is the general situation of world affairs to-day.

All down the centuries God has been saying through His prophets: "This is the way, walk ye in it." And in the life and teaching of Jesus Christ, that way was once and for all made plain—no made easy, but certainly made plain. "It is the way of love, that often maligned, usually misunderstood, and frequently degraded, world: God is Love; and those who would lead the world to better things must worship that Love which is self-giving, generous, to a point which the world thinks madness, not easily provoked, never offending, willing to suffer even death rather than be untrue to itself. This is the way, walk ye in it."

U.S. DOLLAR DOWNWARD PLUNGE CHECKED Britain Not Disturbed ROOSEVELT HAS CONFIDENCE IN GOVERNMENT BONDS

New York, Nov. 11. The United States Treasury is most concerned regarding the further fall in the dollar, according to Washington correspondents. On the other hand, President Roosevelt is philosophic and is not alarmed at the daily swings of the market. It is reported that he regards government bonds as a good investment.

Wall Street reports state that the Reconstruction Finance Corporation has resumed the selling of dollars in exchange for foreign gold. This is taken to mean that the Corporation desires further and immediate depreciation of the dollar.

A currency duel between Great Britain and the United States is not at present imminent, according to the Washington correspondent of the "New York Times". Quoting an authoritative source, the correspondent states that Britain will remain passive for at least as long as the commodity prices are rising and the swinging movements of the dollar work against making trade commitments.

The British economist, Sir William Beveridge, has urged a dollar in relation to gold as a remedy for the economic ills of the United States.

Speaking at the Pilgrim's Dinner, Sir William recommended the formation of an impartial committee to examine the whole United States banking system in order to make investments safer. He also proposed the free use of Federal credit to lower the interest on all kinds of debts.—Reuter.

DOWNWARD SLIDE

New York, Nov. 10. The downward slide of the American dollar was checked today, and it is significant that the brake was applied by official action.

There was only one method open to the Administration, the fixing of the price offered for domestic gold at a lower level than the world quotation, and this course was adopted.

The move succeeded in breaking the slide and in confining fluctuations within very narrow limits. Opening at the post-war high-water mark of $5.16 to the pound sterling, the dollar gradually strengthened and steadied around $5.12.

SECURITY SLUMP

The slump in United States Government securities, which caused more alarm than the fall in the dollar, and which occurred simultaneously with the drop in the currency, is attributed to the reduction of the Federal Reserve Board's purchases in the open market to $10,000,000 weekly, as compared with the former figure of from $35,000,000 to $40,000,000. The Government's next move is obscure, but the fact that Mr. Woodin, the Secretary of the Treasury Department, lunched with President Roosevelt at the White House today, is taken to indicate that something is brewing in the monetary line.

SILVER SURMISE

The rise in the price of silver in sympathy with gold has caused further conjecture along the lines that the Government intends to fix a minimum price for silver.—Reuter.

INDIA CIVIL APPOINTMENTS

London, Nov. 10. The Secretary of State for India has appointed Sir Louis Kershaw as Assistant Under-Secretary with effect from December 21 next, in succession to Sir Malcolm Seton who is about to retire.

With effect from same date he has appointed Sir Cecil Kisch as Secretary of the Financial Department of the India Office, to be one of the Assistant Under-Secretaries.—British Wireless.

WILL HITLER WIN? Demonstrations Point To Easy Victory

Berlin, Nov. 12. With weather which is dull and warm, taverns containing polling-booths have been besieged with large crowds since 9 a.m. There were long queues outside some, and it is estimated at least fifty per cent. of the electorate voted by 11 a.m. President Hindenburg was one of the earliest voters in Berlin. He arrived at the Polling-booth, near the Palace at 9.30 and was enthusiastically cheered as he drove off to church.

Thousands of people are walking the streets wearing a gilt badge inscribed "yes," indicating how they had voted, while motor-cars crowded with Brown-Shirts shouting, "one people, one leader and one 'yes' are parading the streets.

All hundred and fifty four voters in Stahlbrode, Pomerania, voted "yes" for a plebiscite and the Government.—Reuter.

DISTURBANCES FEARED Firm Measures Have Been Taken

Vienna, Nov. 10. Stringent measures have been taken by the Government to guard against the possibility of disturbances to-morrow and Sunday.

A Government communique issued this evening announces the re-introduction of the death penalty through courts-martial for the crimes of murder, arson and serious disturbances of peace and order.

The official announcement stresses that the intention of the decision is not to be regarded as the establishment of universal martial law.

Action has been thought necessary owing to the coincidence of the birth of the Austrian Republic and the German elections on November 12.

The Government considers it necessary, therefore, to reinforce its powers to enable it to meet all possible contingencies.—Reuter.

Sensation Caused.

Vienna, Nov. 11. The re-introduction of the death penalty throughout Austria for murder, arson and serious disturbances of order, has caused a sensation in Vienna.

Although a special civil court will be charged with the trial of these offences, the death penalty has been re-introduced in accordance with martial law.

The Government has banned any public celebrations on the Republic's anniversary. Many Socialists' meetings to protest against the ban have been broken up by the police, and a number of arrests made.

AUSTRIAN GUARD KILLED

Vienna, Nov. 11. Following the killing, by unidentified assailants, of a member of the Austrian Heimwehr who was on duty at Lochau, Vorarlberg, the Bavarian frontier has been closed.

German, returning home from to-morrow's elections must prove that they are voters.—Reuter.

CHANG LUNCHES AT CHEQUERS

London, Nov. 11. Marshal Chang Hsueh-liang and Mrs. Chang lunched with the Premier, Mr. Ramsay MacDonald at the Chequers, to-day.

The private, informal function was inspired by the friendship formed between the Premier's son, Mr. Malcolm MacDonald and Marshal Chang Hsueh-liang during the former's visit to Manchuria in 1928.—Reuter.

BRITISH TRADE EXPANDS Board of Trade Returns for October

London, Nov. 11. Further expansion of overseas trade is revealed in the Board of Trade returns for October. Imports valued at $61,771,063, represent an increase of $3,968,129 as compared with September.

Exports were of the value of $34,130,966 being an increase of $1,604,699 over the September total. Returns for the past month also show a gratifying increase as compared with the corresponding month of last year the increase in the value of imports being $1,004,961 and of exports $3,690,637.

For the ten months up to the end of October, imports were valued at $549,434,339. This is a decrease of $31,539,667 as compared with the first ten months of last year.

Exports during the same period totalled $302,627,210 an increase of $978,593.

During October the value of raw materials and articles mainly unmanufactured imported into Britain showed an increase over October, 1932, of $3,036,694. There was a decrease of $2,739,158 in the value of imported food, drink and tobacco.

The value of manufactured articles imported increased by $68,751. On the other hand exports of manufactured articles showed an increase over October, 1932, of $3,393,621.—British Wireless.

GERMANY MAY RE-ENTER LEAGUE

If Structure & Rules Are Changed

Paris, Nov. 11. Reliable information in possession of the French Government, confirms the report that Germany after the plebiscite, to-morrow will propose the re-organisation of the League Council and its structure and rules, with a view to Germany's re-entry into the Geneva arena on a stronger basis.

Reports from Geneva indicate that following the conversations between the Italian Premier, Signor Mussolini and the Premier of Prussia, Captain Goering, Germany will propose, with Italy's approval, the summoning of a conference of the Powers primarily interested in the German problem, namely, Great Britain, France, Italy, Germany, Belgium, Poland and the Little Entente, to be held before the end of the year, in Switzerland.

It is thought possible that France will accept such a conference provided the decisions are subject to the final jurisdiction of the League of Nations.—Reuter.

IMPASSIONATE APPEAL

Geneva, Nov. 11. The President of the Disarmament Conference, Mr. Arthur Henderson, to-day made an impassioned appeal to the Conference Bureau to set on with its work.

"Let this fifteenth anniversary of the Armistice see the work well taken in hand. This is the most critical stage in the history of the Disarmament Conference," he declared.—Reuter.

HOCKEY Lady Champions Beaten by St. Andrew's

"Y" LADIES LOSE TO MEN

Several friendly hockey matches were played during the week-end, the most surprising result being the defeat of the Hongkong Ladies Hockey Club, twice champions in the C.A.R. Cup competition, by the St. Andrew's Ladies.

The "Y" Ladies lost to the Men by five goals to one, and at Shamshulpo the details of the Argyls beat the Headquarter Wing, Lincolns by four goals to one. The 9th Battery, R.A., were severely trounced by the Central British Association to the tune of six goals, while an evenly contested match was seen at King's Park where the Y.M.C.A. beat the Kowloon Indians by two goals to one.

LADY CHAMPIONS DEFEATED. The Hongkong Ladies Hockey Club were beaten by the St. Andrew's Ladies by five goals to two, on the Marina ground.

"The Saints" held the upper hand throughout, and the outstanding player on their side being Miss Margaret Wolley, who was responsible for all the goals. The Champions were without the services of Miss Pope who was indisposed, but they did not seem quite at home on the fast sand ground.

Miss Dalziel opened the scoring for the champions early in the game, but Miss Wolley soon equalised after a fine solo effort. Before the end of the first half, however, Miss Churchill regained the lead for the champions.

In the second half, the Saints made one positional change, Miss Jessie Wong, who was playing at right half, going to centre half. This move resulted remarkably well for the Saints for from then on they dominated play and Miss Wolley, with her clever stick-work, broke through to score four goals in quick succession.

Hong Kong Ladies—Misses M. Bird, Mrs. C. Robertson, Misses E. Helbling, M. Wallace, Mrs. H. K. Lowe, Miss E. Bell, J. Dalziel, E. Bonnar, J. Churchill and Miss E. Selby.

St. Andrew's Ladies—Misses A. Chubb, G. White, E. Landolt, M. Churn, J. Wong, I. Woolley, I. Gittins, I. Rogers, M. Woolley, K. Grose and Miss F. Wong.

"Y" LADIES V. MEN

The Ladies and Men of the Y.M.C.A. engaged in a friendly match at King's Park, the latter winning by five goals to one. At the beginning the Ladies had much of the play, Miss O. Brown being outstanding, but after ten minutes had elapsed, the Men took up the offensive, and scored three times before the interval. Balman was the first scorer with Smith adding the second and third.

After the interval, the Ladies retaliated and after about 10 minutes' play, Mrs. Read succeeded in reducing the deficit, Miss Weller, the goalkeeper, saved many difficult shots, and Miss S. Dalziel, at centre half, was mainly responsible in frustrating many of the Men's attempts.

Towards the end, Mrs. S. Fowler scored two more goals for the men to bring the total to five. "Y" Ladies—J. Weller, A. Fowler and M. Gardner; E. Blumenthal, S. Dalziel and E. Thompson; O. Brown, M. Grints, M. Read, R. Blakemore and O. Dalziel.

"Y" Men—Selk: Baldwin and Donner; Balman, G. Fowler and Hanke; Brown, Smith, Henry, Sharpe and S. Fowler.

C.B.A. BEAT 9TH BATTERY. The 9th Battery, R.A. were trounced to the tune of six goals to nil by the Central British Association in a friendly encounter at King's Park.

Play was fairly even in the first half, the C.B.A. managed to score only once through Francis. In the second half, the 9th Battery surprising collapsed, with the result that the C.B.A. broke through to score five more goals. Johnson scored three in succession, while Whitley and Halford added the others.

C.B.A.—A. Gurevitch; A. Pole, B. I. Bickford; J. J. King, H. Halford, F. W. R. Allen; W. H. G. Hirst; T. Whitley; C. C. Francis, W. J. Johnson and A. Carroll. 9th Battery, R.A.—Nash; Madison, Hunt; Wellington, Worthington, Furness, Gibbons, Thomas, Leach, Read and Brooks.

Y.M.C.A. V. K.I.T.C. An evenly-contested game was played at King's Park between the Kowloon Indians and the Y.M.C.A. which resulted in a win for the latter by two goals to one.

The "Y" scored two goals in the first half, Brown and Baldwin being responsible. In the second half, the Indians improved considerably and attacked the "Y" goal continuously. However, they succeeded in scoring only once, Noronha beating Fowler with a nice shot.

ARGYLLS WIN

A friendly game was played at Shamshulpo between the details of the Argyls and the Headquarter Wing, Lincolns. The former won (Continued on previous col.)

NEW SPORT IN HONG KONG American Football to Begin December 3rd

Signals, one-two-three-four, hip, hike, and on Sunday, December the third, the ball will be snapped into play in the initial game of the newly formed American Football League which is starting in the colony. Four teams are entered including the South China Athletic Club of Hongkong University, Ling Nam University, Canton City and one other team also from Canton. Games will be played every Sunday and there is a great possibility of the winning team making a trip to Shanghai for an interport fixture.

American football is not the un-orthodox contest of brawn which many people think it is. It is a game demanding absolute physical fitness, it is true, but it teaches presence of mind, and brains are as much an essential to it as a ball.

Although the game is not as open as rugby, it has one advantage, both from the spectators and the players point of view and that is that every man is in every play.

A FINE TRAINER

The local team, during the past three weeks have been training constantly and are under the supervision of Bill Butt, one of the finest coaches they could possibly obtain. He is a man that knows the game from beginning to end having been one of the star backfield men of Nevada University, a college that has an athletic record hard to excel. He is a firm believer in the Jones System of play, adopted by the University of Southern California, which consists of power and deception. The University team, in the words of their coach, "Have taken to American football like ducks to water. Out of the twenty-three men trying out for places, eighteen of them have had previous experience."

Coach Butt feels sure that knowing the spirit of sportsmanship so characteristic of the citizens of this Colony, they will give American football a chance here and he is certain that he can furnish them with thrills and play worthy of their support.

Ling Nam University also show signs of having a strong squad and are being trained by a former Notre Dame player. Anyone familiar with American football knows that the greatest team ever produced came from that University and was coached by the late Knute Rockne, the man who made football the game that annually draws the largest aggregate crowds of any sport of its type in the world.

Drawn Match With S. Punjab

Amritsar, Nov. 11. The three-day cricket match between the M.C.C. touring eleven and the Southern Punjab eleven, ended to-day in a draw.

Scores: First Innings—Southern Punjab, 284 runs. (Amarnath, 106). Second Innings—Southern Punjab, 103 runs for 1 wicket. M.C.C. 490 runs for 7 wickets, declared. (Townsend, 80, C. F. Walters, 86).—Reuter.

RUGBY Club Overwhelmed By Navy

(BY FORWARD)

In the best rugby game seen this season the Navy defeated the Club by three goals, four tries and a penalty goal (30 points) to a goal and a try (8 points) on the Club ground last Saturday.

The Navy were represented by an exceptionally strong team, probably the best side ever fielded in Hong Kong. It included two internationals, Lt. St. Clair Ford (Scotland) and Lt. N. L. Evans (England) besides four navy "caps" in Lt. Linton, Nixon, Slater and Forbes. Dr. J. A. R. Selby, the Club Captain, is also a Scottish International.

At the interval the teams were on level terms, the score being 8 points each. However, the Navy showed definite superiority in all departments of the game in the second half.

Both the Club tries were scored by Lammert after good runs, Robertson converting one. The Navy scorers were Forbes (3), Miers (2) and St. Clair Ford (3). Shaw kicked a penalty goal and Buckley converted one try and Linton two tries. Capt. Gottwalt refereed and the teams were:—

Club:—J. R. Whitham; G. P. Lammert; R. H. Griffiths; I. G. Robertson; J. J. Ferguson; J. Hutcheson; J. A. R. Selby (Captain); A. F. Waldeon; D. McLellan; D. H. Bradford; D. M. Wheeler; S. H. Slow Scoring In The Interport

TEDDY FINCHER SCORES 81: MINU & PEREIRA IN MERRY MOOD

Excellent weather favoured the Hong Kong-Shanghai cricketers for their interport match which commenced on Saturday morning, and after winning the toss, Harry Owen Hughes, the Colony skipper, not unnaturally elected to bat on what appeared, to be a hard wicket.

The feature of the day's play was a stolid innings by "Teddy" Fincher who stayed at the wickets for 208 minutes to score 81 runs. It was a very patient knock and on the whole cricket was slow until A. R. Minu went in and had a short but merry innings, hitting everything that was sent down to him to get 20 runs in 22 minutes and at one stage he had three fours and a single, off successive balls. His club mate, Frank Pereira, also had a merry time, getting 14 rapidly, but those were among the few bright moments during a day of what may be termed "dull play."

A regular holiday crowd filled the public stands while many more lined the rails. In the course of the afternoon, when play was painfully slow, one enthusiast from the public stand started some good natured chaffing and this soon caught on, though the "barracking" was nothing like that which one hears "Down Under."

When stumps were drawn, Hong Kong were 232 for 9 wickets, Ernie Fincher and Dunkley being the not outs. They will resume the Hong Kong innings this morning.

HONG KONG WIN TOSS.

There was a big crowd present when Owen Hughes went out to toss with Donald Leach, and the smile he wore as they returned to the Pavilion showed that the Hong Kong skipper had won the toss. As was only to be expected, he elected to bat and sent "Teddy" Fincher and A. W. Hayward to open the innings for Hong Kong.

The wicket appeared to be in excellent condition, but on the hard side and after a little wear the ball began to come up awkwardly.

The two veterans of the interports, "Dick" Hancock and "Tam" Pearce were in a very happy frame of mind when they walked out on the ground to see the players having a knock up at the nets, and with all Hong Kong in a holiday mood the day was thoroughly enjoyed.

"Torry" Wilson, the Shanghai vice-captain has represented the Northern part in swimming and soccer in addition to cricket.

Sam Isaacs opened the attack for Shanghai from the Courts end. As usual he had Pat Madar fielding at forward short-leg, but he had only one slip and a deep third man. The first two balls went outside the leg stump which Fincher let pass but the third one went for a bye and the next one hit Hayward on the pads to go for a leg bye. The next two were played by the batsman, Fincher, who, however, did not score, making "Sam's" first over a maiden.

That old-time warrior, Torry Wilson was the next bowler, and like the left-hander he had only one man in the slips, and off his second ball Hayward opened his account with a single—a pretty pat past point.

Mayhew, of whom so much has been said, kept wickets very well, taking a few outside the leg stump in fine style. Off the last ball of Wilson's over, Hayward got it ball away to the third man boundary but P. V. Simpson saved the four and the batsmen ran only two.

Isaacs was bowling very well but he had no luck, all of his balls which had the batsmen beaten also beating the stumps. Play was painfully slow at this stage but the bowling was of such a high standard that neither of the batsmen could afford to take any risks.

LEACH RINGS CHANGE. With the total at 20, Leach rung the first change, going on himself in place of Wilson, and off his first ball, Pearce scored a single to third man. Like Wilson, he was bumping the ball a lot, but off his last ball "Teddy" took a single to reach his ten after being at the wickets 33 minutes. He then scored over to score a four off Isaac's ball over Simpson's head, the latter being at fairly deep mid-on.

Leach conceded two runs off the first four balls of his second over but he got Pearce's wicket with the next one, the batsman stepping in front and was given marching orders for obstruction. 28-2-3, Pearce was at the wicket for 17 minutes and this was the second time he was out by the

1.b.w. route in three innings.

The thirty was signalled in the next over when a loose one from Isaacs went for two byes. Thirty up in forty-six minutes, and eight runs in ten overs, six of which were maidens. That gives a good indication of the run of play. Williams, who came in to fill the breach when Pearce was out, scored a two off the Shanghai skipper to open his account, and two balls later he got a four off a shot which did not merit that score. He failed to get hold of the ball which went over slips to the boundary.

WILLIAMS' ENTERPRISE.

With the total at 39, Leach made another change, bringing in Jenkins in place of Isaacs who had bowled ten overs, six of which were maidens, for eight runs and one wicket. Fincher took a single off the third ball from Jenkins, and off the next one, Peter Williams hooked him very neatly to the tram lines boundary to reach his ten in eight minutes and also sent the forty up in 53 minutes. His success was short-lived for in the next over he stepped in front of one from Leach and the bowler's appeal for obstruction was upheld 42-3-11, and play had been in progress for 55 minutes. Williams took ten minutes to get his runs.

Garthwaite was next in and he opened his account when Booth failed to stop a hot drive at mid-off and the ball deflected for a two. Jenkins was bowling better at this stage, coming away from the leg, and occasionally coming off very fast. The first hour's play only produced 47 runs, and shortly afterwards, Leach was heard to shout for "water."

With the total at 49, Leach rang another change, Booth being given the ball in place of Jenkins. Fincher got a single off his third ball to send the fifty up in 70 minutes and to set his 20. He had batted very patiently for 70 innings and up till this stage he took no liabilities with any of the bowlers.

FINCHER BATTING SOUNDLY.

At 52, Wilson again took over the bowling, and if anything, he was coming off faster than he did in his first spell, and he gave away one run to Fincher who took a single off the last ball. He then put Booth away to fine leg for a two. It was a very fine shot and it earned him a well deserved round of applause. He was well set by this time and in the next over, he brought off a big hit when he put Wilson to the Navy Yard end boundary to send up the 60 in 82 minutes.

Within the umpires in consultation about adjourning for lunch. Leach took the ball again himself and off his fifth ball, Fincher scored a single to reach his thirty in 88 minutes. A stop was then made for lunch.

AFTERNOON'S PLAY.

The large crowd which watched the morning's play had increased considerably in the afternoon when Fincher (30) and Garthwaite (8) resumed Hong Kong's innings.

There was a slight breeze blowing across the wicket when Isaacs started the bowling from the Law Courts end, Fincher facing him, and taking a single off the third ball, and Garthwaite crossing over to do the same thing. Another single, and then Fincher crossed over to face the Shanghai skipper.

The break for lunch did not seem to have affected the batsmen, both of whom had batted very consistently since the resumption. Isaacs was rather inclined to repeat his fault of the morning—that is putting too many on the leg stump or just a little outside it and he was rightly put away for a four by Garthwaite who reached his ten in 43 minutes and incidentally sent to 70 up in 98 minutes. Then Isaacs bowled a maiden to Gathwaite—the first one after lunch, and Leach did the same thing in sympathy.

Four byes two over later (Leach bowling) brought the total to 79 and ball later Garthwaite brought off a fine drive to the on boundary (Navy Yard end) to send the 80 up after 118 minutes' play. Then a sharp single by Fincher to give the bowling to Garthwaite who, in trying a big hit, failed to connect and gave Simpson a good mid-on, an easy catch, 84-4-18. Garthwaite had played very patiently for 56 minutes and during his stay at the wickets, he saw 42 runs added to the total.

Hong Kong's captain was next man in, the first ball he received from Isaacs hitting him on the pads, after which over was called. Fincher then took a single off Leach to give his captain the bowling and Owen Hughes opened his account with a single to mid-wicket.

With the total at 87, Pat Madar was given another chance with the ball and off his first delivery, Fincher scored a single to reach his 40 in 118 minutes. He followed this up immediately with a single and 90 was signalled simultaneously. Owen Hughes scored another single, and yet another was credited to Fincher who was becoming more enterprising. He had, up till now, batted 120 minutes and had not given anything like a chance.

Facing Leach once again, Fincher patted the ball slowly to cover-point and the batsmen ran a sharp single and Owen Hughes played the rest of the over without adding to the score.

Two overs later, Owen Hughes hit Leach to the fine leg boundary and it looked a certain four but Wilson dashed after the ball and brought off an excellent recovery.

OWEN HUGHES UNWELL. The total was 98 when Isaacs was put on again in place of Madar. At this point Owen Hughes had to retire from the field on account of a sudden attack of sickness and the Shanghai captain very courteously let him retire to the pavilion to rest and resume his innings later. Meanwhile Minu went out to bat with Fincher who took a single off Isaacs to send the 100 up in 133 minutes. Then Minu delighted his supporters with a big hit to the pavilion for a four, following this with a single.

MINU'S FIREWORKS. Booth came on for Leach at 105 and Minu hit his second for a four, treating the next two balls in a like manner to send the 110 in 130 minutes and took a single off the next to score 18 in five minutes. It was bright cricket with a vengeance!

Torry Wilson was then given the ball in place of Isaacs, and Minu treated his first one with due respect. The next one he hit to the country for a single to give the bowling to his partner who likewise got a single. The 120 was then signalled, play having been in play for 142 minutes. Immediately afterwards "Teddy" scored a four to reach his half century. He was deservedly given a great ovation. Minu then got a single to reach his twenty in 14 minutes.

With the total at 128, Leach went on for Booth and his first ball was hit for a single by Minu. Although he had been at the wickets ever since play commenced, he was not taking any chances and treated the bowling very carefully. Wilson then bowled to Minu who was still hitting very hard but he found it rather hard to reach the rails with the field so well-placed. A single by him and then a bye brought the total to 130 in 150 minutes.

Minu then attempted another hard hit off Wilson but he mistimed the ball and sent a hard catch to Stokes at cover which was very well taken. The score was 130-5-23 when Owen Hughes went out to resume his innings. Minu's 22 was got in 20 minutes. It was a short but merry knock, and he saw 32 runs being put on for the fifth wicket.

Another change was made at 132 when Leach went on again in place of Booth and Owen Hughes got him away to the leg boundary, getting his 10 in 23 minutes. Play was rather slow for a time and then he batted the ball (from Wilson) to the tram lines boundary to send the 140 up in 162 minutes. Then another four (off Leach) the next over saw him get his 20 in 35 minutes and to celebrate this he hit another four off the next ball, and a single by Fincher in the next over saw the 150 go up in 170 minutes.

GOOD-HUMoured BARRACKING.

Jenkins then relieved Leach in the Navy Yard end, Fincher giving him a maiden. Another maiden conceded by Fincher two overs later brought forth a plea from the public stand for "Teddy" to "shake it up." More careful play and then a single by Owen Hughes brought forth another yell from the public stand, this time it was a "hurrah!" Fincher then took a single off Jenkins and he, also was given a cheer. Play was dreadfully slow at this point and for ten minutes or so, there had hardly been any scoring.

With the score at 155, Leach made another change and brought Isaacs on in place of Wilson. Fincher was the batsman and another maiden was conceded. Jenkins then bowled to Owen Hughes who scored a two and off the next ball he survived a stout appeal for stumping, the wicket-keeper bringing off a smart piece of work but "Harry" was miles in. A couple of singles and a four by Fincher gave him his 30 in 167 minutes.

To the next over, Owen Hughes got a four from Isaacs, to send the 160 up and then the batsmen were in

Jasper Clark Cup

The results of the Jasper Cup, which was played at Fanling, yesterday resulted as follows:—

O. E. C. Marton	74-75=150
F. D. Hunter	74-75=154
A. E. Lissaman	82-80=162
I. Newton	84-80=164
K. S. Robertson	83-82=165
L. R. Andrews	83-84=167

Lissaman and Newton had the best scores for morning and afternoon rounds for which the winner and runner-up were not eligible.

Six Interport Points

(BY "L. B. W.")

The following are six points of Saturday's play:—

1. That the Hong Kong team selected to play against Shanghai was, on paper, a distinct improvement on the team that did duty against Malaya;
2. That most of the Hong Kong batsmen were overawed by the reputations of the Shanghai bowlers with the result that they were afraid to go for the bowling;
3. That both Torry Wilson and Sam Isaacs are not the bowlers they used to be and that they sent far too many on the leg side;
4. That the Shanghai fielding was patchy;
5. That Teddy Fincher was too careful altogether;

6. That the last three batsmen might have been instructed to go for the runs in the hope that they would add to the score rapidly, or if they did get out, then Shanghai would have had to bat for half-an-hour in not too good a light, and Hong Kong might have got a couple of cheap wickets.

Charity Match At Sookunpoo SERVICE DEFEAT THE REST

The Charity game played at Sookunpoo in aid of Earl Haig's fund, between teams chosen from the Services and the Rest of the Colony, was won by the Services by three goals to two. The band of the South Wales Borderers, by kind permission of Lt. Col. G. T. Raikes, D.S.O., and Officers of the Regiment played selections before the play commenced.

The players were presented to H.E. Sir William Peel, K.C.M.G., K.B.E., by the Vice-Presidents of the H.K.F.A., Mr. H. K. Lo and Capt. C. E. Elliott Heywood. Lt. Hocquard having won the toss, His Excellency kicked off for the Rest.

In the football draw, Lady Peel drew the lucky number. The holder of the ticket, No. 80 was purchased by Mr. Farmer, of H.M. Submarine Osiris.

H.E. The Governor and Lady Peel were accompanied by Capt. Walker, A.D.C.

H.E. The General Officer Commanding, Major General O. C. Borrett, C.B., C.M.G., C.B.E., D.S.O. was also a keen spectator.

The matches in Divisions II and III of the Hong Kong League resulted as follows:—

DIVISION I.

SERVICES V. THE REST.

The crowd was a disappointing one, but considering the many other attractions on, soccer had a good share of patronage. The teams turned out as selected with one exception. Duncan the Reserve half back being brought in at inside left in place of Tam Kong Pak with E. Strange crossing over to inside right.

Play opened in favour of the Services, but weakness in front of goal kept the score down. The ball continually went out to the right wing, but Snooks invariably centred out of play, the ball going behind with the forwards crowding around Wong in the goal area. The Rest had hard luck in not opening the score, when Heath left his goal and Howe with an open goal lobbed the ball over the bar. Ridley was outstanding, but his partner on the wing was much below his usual form, going on the field with a bandaged knee.

Smith was well to the fore, but continually crossed in front of goal and so gave Wong many openings to see the flight of the ball. Leung Wing Chun was very safe in the middle line and seemed to gain possession of the ball at all times. Cork several times placed his forwards in good positions, but Wong was steady in goal. The shot that beat him before the interval was sent in by Ridley from close range, with the Rest's defence well scattered, and the goalkeeper had no chance whatever. The Rest made a fine rally just before the interval and Allan made a smart clearance with Heath well beaten.

Resuming, the Rest attacked strongly, but Blake's shot went behind. The Services increased their lead when Snook slipped the ball to Smith and the latter going close in placed the ball in the net to give the Services a clear two goals lead. The Services were not satisfied with this margin and scored again through Smith who took a pass from Langmead and went in to beat Wong with a fast shot from close range. Being three down, the Rest fought back gamely and had hard luck in not getting on terms. Two goals were put on in quick time and had luck prevented them from drawing level. Tang Kwong Sum sent across from the right and Allan was forced to kick behind for a fruitless corner. E. Strange and Howe brought the ball through the defence, the latter testing Heath with a hard drive and before the goalie could recover, Blake rushed in and shot into the net to open the score for the Rest. With this success the Rest put on pressure (and Howe sent E. Strange in to leave Heath helpless with a fast cross shot. Keeping up their pressure the Rest had hard luck when Strange broke through again, his shot just clearing the upright with Heath out of position. The final whistle sounded shortly after, with the Services ahead by the odd goal.

Although only one goal up at the interval, the Services were much the better team during the first half of the game. Several chances went begging, although great credit is due to Wong Wing for his work in goal for the Rest. Hill was good, but crossing over to the other side left Ridley very open. Andy Duncan filled the inside left position, but being essentially a half back, he was often out of position when Blake wanted assistance in rounding the defence.

The Services—Heath; Allan; Morrison; Purkins; Cork, McQuire; Snooks; Smith; Langmead; Ridley and E. Hocquard.

The Rest—Wong Wing; Hill; S. Strange; Leung Wing Chun; Chan-ning; Bliss; Tang Kwong Sum; E. Young; Howe; A. Duncan; Blake. Referee Capt. E. Hague. R.A.

S. W. B. V. KOWLOON.

Playing on the Railway ground, the Borderers defeated Kowloon by four clear goals.

The Borderers pressed from the kick off and only good play by Cook in the Kowloon goal kept the army from opening the score. After twenty minutes play, Cook was forced to give way, Morris beating him with a shot from close range. Before the interval, John added to the Borderers score. Kowloon failed against the Borderers defence and seldom got in to worry Williams in the Borderers goal. Herbert increased the Borderers lead early in the second half and later the Borderers were awarded a penalty kick, but Morris ballooned over the bar. Herbert scored the fourth goal for the Borderers after Cook had stepped a hot one from Morris.

H. K. CLUB V. R. NAVY.

Playing on the Club ground, the Navy defeated the Club by four clear goals. The Navy pressed from the kick off and opened the score through Rose. Forrow made a good effort to field the shot, but failed to turn the ball out. The Navy increased their lead through McBride who snapped up a pass from Rose to go in and beat Forrow with a fast cross shot. The Club then got away and Bell was placed in possession by Fisher but the former missed an easy chance.

Crossing over with a two goals lead, the Navy resumed the pressure and Forrow was busy in the Club goal. The Club forwards then got together and Duncan sent Tavlin in, but he shot wide. The Navy's defence was sound. McClurg clearing and passing well to his forwards. The Navy increased their lead through Chap-pell and McNeill taking up a chance offered by Ralston who failed to clear Chappell sent the ball well out of Forrow's reach to secure the Navy's fourth goal.

DIVISION II.

SOUTH CHINA V. INDIANS.

Playing on the Athletic ground within the racecourse, South China defeated the Young Indians by four goals to one.

South China were surprised by the Young Indians in an early breakaway. Azim opening the score from good work by Arcull. South China were not long in arrears. Yeung Poon Hon going through to level up. South China were now playing a fine game and took the lead through Ng Po Kui. The Young Indians were put off the game by the next work of South China and were inclined to allow feeling to creep into their game. South China were leading by two goals to one when the teams crossed over and added to their score through Chow Kwan Kong. The referee was forced to call up some of the players and caution them for their conduct. South China kept up their pressure and Yeung Poon Hon scored again for them.

DIVISION III.

RADIO V. RECREIO.

Playing off the Athletic ground Radio defeated the Recreio by three clear goals. Haroon opened the score for the Radio and increased their lead from a penalty kick. Tavares also scored for Radio.

R.E. V. UNIVERSITY.

Playing at Happy Valley, the University and Engineers played a fine sporting game, the Sappers winning by the odd goal in seven. Oliveira opened the score for the University and further goals by Law and Tjos gave them a three clear goals lead at the interval. During the second half the Sappers took charge of the game and scored four goals through Budden (2), Evans and Harding.

R.A.F. V. LINCOLNS.

Playing at King's Park, the Lincolns defeated the Airmen in a well fought game by four goals to one.

The only goal of the first half was scored by Harper for the Lincolns. Early in the second half, Tait levelled up for the Airmen and a struggle then ensued for the lead. Within ten minutes of the final whistle the Airmen were holding the leaders of the division. A lapse by the Airmen defence was taken full advantage of by Lincolns who put on three goals in quick succession through Harper, Dudley and Setters.

RECREIO V. SOUTH CHINA

South China had matters very much their own way in the match against the Recreio on the Railway ground and won by six goals to one. South China were not at full strength, Lau Mau being absent. Wong Mee-shun had a good time netting three goals during the match. The first goal was a surprise to the Recreio Leung Wing-chun was unmarked about twenty yards out. He sent in a high shot and the ball striking the underside of the bar was ruled by the referee to be a goal to open the score for South China. Wong Mee-shun scored the second goal and Tam got in to shoot into the goal but was ruled offside. The referee halted the game and made a general caution to the players owing to a little feeling creeping into the play. The Recreio scored their only goal with a bit of very neat play Castillo was sent down on the right and centred about ten yards in front of goal. Santos running in headed the ball in the net. Wong Wing picked the ball out of the net and this was the first time he handled the ball during the first half.

Crossing over a goal to the good, South China pressed hard and Wong just missed with a fast cross shot. Tam headed in from a fine centre by Leung, the ball passing over Marques' head into the net. Tam sent Wong in to score. South China's fourth goal, Wong passed to Fan Kaping about twenty yards out and Fan shooting hard, the ball hit the upright and shot across goal into the net. The final goal was a great effort by Wong who came through from a pass by Tam and almost shot the ball through the net when registering South China's sixth and last goal. Recreio—Marques; Gutierrez; Bowen; Goncalves; Delgado; Maher; Castillo; Goss; Campus; Gomes; Santos. South China—Wong; Wing; Leung; Chan; Li; Tin; Sang; Lam; Tak; Po; Leung; Wing; Chui; Lee Kwok Wei; Yeung; Si; Yick; Wong; Mee-shun; Pau; Ka; Ping; Tam; Kong Pak; Tong Kwan.

LINCOLNS V. ATHLETIC

Playing on the H.K.F.A. ground

before a large attendance, the Lincolns defeated the Athletic by the odd goal in seven.

The Athletic opened the score with the Lincolns' defence scattered and Li Hung Chen sending across the goalmouth, Fung King Yui running in shot the ball into the net. Fung raced away on the left and going close in was dropped inside the area by Edminton. Lai took the penalty kick and beat Heath to put the Athletic two up.

Resuming two goals down, the Lincolns got through Ridley netting from a pass by Harding. With this success the Lincolns put on pressure, but for a time they were held by the Athletic defence. Harding got across another fine centre and Higgins headed into the net to make the score two all. The Athletic soon took the lead again, Ho Ka Keung shooting in through a crowd of players. Higgins was dropped inside the penalty area and Bett made the score three all from the spot kick. A struggle for the winning goal then took place, the Lincolns being successful through Ridley who scored the winning goal from close range.

HONG KONG BATSMEN "BARRACKED"

30 in 57 minutes. A lucky four by Fincher ten minutes later saw the 170 signalled. Meanwhile, Fincher was still playing carefully and though he had been batting from the commencement, he still took no chances and was content to watch the bowling and hit only the loose ones. He then glanced Jenkins for a two to reach his 70
in 200 minutes.

The rate of scoring was somewhat better at this stage and a beautiful square cut by the local skipper for a four brought the total to 180 in 202 minutes. Fincher began to open his shoulders
a little, and in the next over from Jenkins, he sent the ball to the Chater Road boundary, doing the same thing two balls later to get his 80 in 206 minutes. At this stage Pat Madar came on for Isaacs and Owen Hughes placed his first ball nicely for a single.
Fincher did the same and off the next ball Owen Hughes made a big hit but it only went for a single.

FINCHER'S SWAN SONG.
Then came the end of Fincher's innings. A full toss from Madar, an effort on the part of the batman to put it out of the ground, a miss and then—bowed! Fincher had batted with remarkable patience for 208 minutes. He never offered a chance and scored 8 fours, three twos and the rest were singles—191-8-81.

"Ernie" Fincher then filled the breach but he did not score off
the two balls he received from Madar.

Then Leach bowled again and Owen Hughes cut him very nicely through the slips for a four following this up with a single to give his partner the bowling.
Fincher hit a single to open his account while his captain, batting very well, had by this time reached his 40.

Pat Madar's "donkey drops" seemed very tempting and a little later his faster one beat Fincher and the stumps! Fincher then made a single to send the 200 up
in 215 minutes.

With the new ball, Wilson was given another trial but his first delivery was rather full and Fincher did not score off it though he got a single three balls later.
Isaacs was given the next over,
and light had by this time become rather difficult.

When the total was at 207, Owen
Hughes was very cleverly stumped by Mayhew. He had been batting for 95 minutes and his 48 was the result of a very good knock—207-7-48. Beck came—and went for a "duck." Wilson clean bowled him with his last ball—207-80-0.

PEREIRA LIVES.
Pereira joined Fincher, and like his club mate Minu, he went out without any gloves. He opened his account with a two off Wilson after which he had to change his bat! Then he made a mighty swipe for a four, to send the 210 up and took a single off the last one to face Isaacs who bowled a maiden.

Wilson bowled to Pereira again and the batsman after playing the first two tamely, he hit a four and then a single to send the 220 up in 242 minutes and incidentally reach his ten in as many minutes. Then a single by Fincher got him his ten, and one ball later Isaacs met with further success when a perfect length ball,
coming away from the leg stump,
bowed Pereira neck and crop—224-4-14.

With about ten minutes left for play, Dunkley went in to bat, and after about five minutes of very dull play, Ernie Fincher got one away to the Naval Yard end boundary to send the 230 up in 255 minutes. Then Pat Madar had another shot at bowling.

With barely two minutes left for play, Leach himself took over the bowling but Fincher did not attempt to score at all and when stumps were drawn after play had gone on for 263 minutes, Hong Kong still had one wicket in hand.
Play will be resumed at 11 a.m.
to-day.
The scores were:—

MALAYA BEAT THE K.C.C.

Sporting Game And Fine Finish

One of the best finishes to a cricket match on the Kowloon Cricket Club ground was seen yesterday when the Club entertained the Malayan cricket team to an all-day game which the visitors won just on time by one wicket.

It can rightly be called a grand finish, and it was anybody's game, the last wicket pair saving it for Malaya—those two seasoned warriors, Splidevande and Dean, did their job in a thorough Malayan manner and just beat the clock.

A very happy function took place when Mr. R. E. Lindsell, president of the Club, presented F. L. V. Croome, captain of the Malaya team that played yesterday, with a K.C.C. flag as a souvenir of the occasion. Mr.
Lindsell said that it gave him very much pleasure to make the presentation, and Kowloon's one regret was that they did not have more opportunities of entertaining Malayan interprovincial teams, for, owing to the fact that they were much farther away from Hong Kong than Shanghai teams from the south did not come up so frequently.

Referring to the "baby" (L.
Alvis) of the team, Mr. Lindsell said that he thought he was a "master stroke!" He then handed the flag over to F. L. V.
Croome who, in reply, said that the captain of the team, Mr. R.
N. Hamilton was prevented by illness from attending but he (the speaker) was sure that Mr.
Hamilton would be very glad to get the flag—in fact he had left instructions for it to be taken away as they were collecting
"these things!"

The speaker went on to say that it had been an excellent game and he thought that Kowloon's declaration was a very sporting one indeed.

THE PLAY
Kowloon took first innings and were given a good start by Munn and Gittins who put on 37 for the first wicket. The feature of the innings was, however, the partnership between Burnett (42) and Stapleton (40) who added 80 runs for the sixth wicket. Burnett hit very hard all round the wicket while Stapleton showed some semblance of the form that won him his interpro cap a few years back during his stay at the wickets.

For the visitors, Alvis was the most successful bowler, taking 4 wickets for 35 runs. The fielding of the visitors was, as usual, excellent.

Malaya went in to bat after lunch and when they lost 5 wickets for 68 runs, it looked as though Kowloon might bring off a win. Then Alvis (51), Willis (20) and Lewis (23) all made some runs to bring the score to 171 when Dean went into join Splidevande for the last wicket and these two got the required runs amid much excitement.

Alvis batted extremely well for his fifty, and from where the writer was sitting, it appeared that he was caught off his pads.

PIECE GOODS

Cotton Goods And Fancies

The following reports have been received by the Chamber of Commerce and published in their fortnightly report:

This being the "off" season for Stables, business in Grey and White Shirtings is very limited. The trade in Shanghai-made cloths with Canton is reported to be slack.

The latest Cotton prices to hand are those of the 9th inst.:—
American Mid. "Spot" 5.36d.
Egyptian Sakel F.G.F. "Spot" 7.16d.

WOOLLENS.

There has been a slight improvement in prices for certain Woolen goods and stocks are reported to be lighter as the result of the recent shipments to Canton, which were made to avoid the higher duties. Local clearances are proceeding slowly and further sales of Hosiery Yarn and Piece Goods have been arranged. Wool prices and Rayon prices continue firm at Home, but Hong Kong values are slow to respond.

THE SILK MARKET

A little better demand came from Lyons and a very moderate amount of transactions resulted—at the close however, the tendency is weak again and buyers are aiming at lower prices.

No interest whatever is shown by America.

A fair amount of transactions is reported for Bombay in coarse sizes.

The dispute over the additional tax of $4.00 per bale has been settled, the Chinese reeler finally having agreed to pay it. Shipments therefore have been normally resumed.

The 7th crop will yield about 3,000 bales of good quality.

Stock. 13,500 Bales.

Very little business has resulted during the period under review and the market seems weak and depressed at the close. New Style Opened being quoted at $84.00.

BRITISH COTTON GOODS

Bigger Overseas Demand

(Special Air-Mail Service)

Overseas demand for the fine cotton goods has also increased considerably since the beginning of June.

Building is another Lancashire industry where more men are being absorbed every week. Another impetus will be given to the industry by the fact that plans involving the expenditure of £1,000,000 have recently been adopted by private enterprise and local government bodies in the North-West.

In other directions, Lancashire is making intensive efforts to win back prosperity. New industries are springing up; novel selling ideas are being introduced; and new fields of enterprise are being explored. Among the most recent developments in Lancashire's campaign are the following:

Just when British motorists had begun to wish for the motor car, fitted with radio sets, which they read were in use in America, Crossley Motors, Limited, of Manchester, have installed seven-valve wireless sets in their new models.

The entry of Messrs. Ferranti, of Hollingwood, Oldham, into the electric clock industry has brought the firm a rush of work. A thousand workpeople had to postpone their annual holiday to cope with the demand for electric clocks and the new wireless sets, exhibited at the Olympia Exhibition, London.

Messrs. Pilkington, of St. Helens, have perfected a remarkably efficient safety glass, for which a big demand is expected.

CANTON MINISTRY OF FINANCE

Inspectors To Be Sent To Rural District

Since the establishment of the District Finance Departments the financial affairs of each district have been placed under the control of the heads of the different District Finance Bureaux.

This plan has been in operation for nearly a year, and the results have been very satisfactory.

With a view to investigating present conditions, and ensuring proper control by the heads of all the districts Mr. Au Fong Po, head of the Canton Ministry of Finance has decided to send a number of inspectors to these different districts.

It is reported that their departure will take place shortly.

CANTON RIVER PATROL

Reserve Unit To Be Organized

Information from Canton states that Mr. Chung Ting Shu, Chief Magistrate of the Kuk Kiang District proposes to organize a Water Police Reserve for the protection of junk masters and merchants of the district.

The Water Police Reserve will have headquarters at Shih Kwan City, and Mr. Ng Mei Hang, a committee-man of the Kuk Kiang District Peace Preservation Bur-

RICE IMPORT TAX

Canton, November 11.
At a meeting of the Kwangtung provincial government yesterday, it was decided that rice imports from abroad which were ordered before September 16 and arrived here after that date are subjected to only one half of the ordinary rate, i.e. 50 cents national currency a picul.

The tax on imported rice, which is one dollar national currency, has been enforced since September 16.—Central Press.

BANK FOR SOUTH KIANGSI

Canton, November 11.
In view of the devastation of southern Kiangsi by the Communists and the trade depression that has followed, General Yu Han-mou, commanding officer of the first Kwangtung army, in southern Kiangsi, has instructed the special administrative bureau to arrange for opening a South Kiangsi Bank.

This Bank is to stabilize financial conditions in southern Kiangsi and to advance money to the needy farmers and others. The Bank is to be financed and managed both by officials and merchants.—Central Press.

Mr. Chen has been appointed as superintendent.

It is expected that the organization of this Water Police Reserve will be completed early next month.

Asia Lands, Limited, has received the following report from their New York correspondents, E. A. Pierce & Co. The main interest today was the action of the silver market. It is rumored that the President is giving serious consideration to a proposal which would call for the extensive use of silver as a basis of currency. It seems this will be the next step along inflationary lines.

SHIP'S ORDEAL IN A HURRICANE

Lloyd's Presentation To Captain

A CREW'S EXPERIENCE

(Special Air-Mail Service)

London, Oct. 25.

Lloyd's silver medal for meritorious services, which is awarded to those who "by extraordinary exertions contribute to the preservation of vessels and cargoes from perils of all kinds," was presented yesterday to Captain D. L. C. Evans for his handling of the Holt liner Phenix during a hurricane last November.

The presentation was made by Sir Percy Mackinnon, Chairman of Lloyd's, who described the conduct of the captain, officers, and crew as a display of seamanship of a very high order.

The Phenix, which had passed through the Windward Passage between Hayti and Cuba en route for Colon, became unmanageable in a hurricane on November 5. Some of the hatch covers were blown away, and a wind estimated at 200 miles an hour sent an almost solid sheet of spray over the bulwarks and carried away tarpaulins. The chief and third officers laboured in considerable danger to secure the hatches, but it was three hours before they could complete the work and return to shelter. The funnel was blown away and steam failed, fires blew out with the back-draught, oil ran through the furnace doors, and the ship was in total darkness. Next day, during a temporary lull, an emergency set was got working and an S.O.S. was sent out, to which a reply was received from the Argonaut. The efforts of the engineers to raise steam were unsuccessful, and the position of the ship became serious, as pumps could not be used. To add to the difficulties, burning oil ran out of the furnace doors and had to be put out by extinguishers.

OIL ON THE SEA

Throughout that night the ship rolled and lurched very heavily, and the next day the wind was again blowing with such violence that the rolling of the ship became even heavier. The emergency wireless set failed and the starboard gangway was carried away. A very heavy sea struck the vessel and about 100 tons went down No. 2 hatch. This added greatly to the seriousness of the ship's position, so that orders were given to put on lifeboats and oil was poured overboard. The effect of the oil was to deaden the seas, and in the opinion of the captain the ship would have foundered had not the pouring of oil been carried on continuously. Though up to this time Captain Evans had done his best, so far as possible, to keep the seriousness of their position from the crew, it is hardly possible that they had failed to realize it, and their powers of endurance had been further tested by the fact that since the early morning of the previous day it had been impossible to obtain stores and there had been a great shortage of water and food. All through the night the pouring of oil was carried out, though these handling the drums were suffering from bruises, exhaustion, hunger, and thirst.
